

Inventor 2010 Subscription Advantage Pack now available

In a continuing effort to provide high quality products to our Subscription customers, Autodesk has released a Subscription Advantage Pack for Autodesk Inventor 2010 Service Pack 1.

The Autodesk Subscription Advantage Pack for Autodesk Inventor® 2010 offers new productivity tools, improved support for architectural fabrication, and easier-to-use simulation features. Move beyond 3D to develop complete digital prototypes of your designs.

The Autodesk Inventor 2010 - Subscription Advantage Pack is available to subscription customers via the Internet at <http://subscription.autodesk.com>
Autodesk Inventor 2010 Service Pack 1 is available via the Internet at <http://support.autodesk.com>

Some of what's new:

- DWG™ Block Browser—Browse for blocks from DWG files and insert them into Autodesk® Inventor® software without having to open a drawing in AutoCAD® software.
- Chain Dimensioning---Create chain dimensions more quickly and easily
- Multi-View Create---Create multiple views simultaneously.
- Architectural View Scale---Display fractional view scales with associative updating.
- Materials Assignment for Simulation*---Select components in the Materials Browser and simultaneously change their material properties.
- Editable Simulation Reports*---Output simulation results to a single file for editing.
- Replace model references in drawings--- You can replace the models referenced in the current drawing document. Select a model from the list and browse to select a new replacement model. All references to the old model are replaced with the new model.
